Would Support Gas Tax Hike But Not Bonds

Editor The Star: I have been reading your editorials on state and county financial levels. You made a statement that the Arkansas State Highway Department was clear of debt. I don't know if this is good or not. Our state roads are far behind other state roads. Just cross the state line in any direction and you can see the difference. For instance, the signs on I-30 and Highway 4 can hardly be seen at night.

Now for county funds and assessments. I personally don't think any citizen of Hempstead County would object to any fair tax if he could see it properly spent on roads. Road projects are far behind.

Speaking for myself, my taxes have been raised each year. But this trail I live on is like the same trail it was 30 years ago. We have narrow roads, narrow washed-out bridges, no ditches, no gravel and nobody that will do anything about it. This is the Battlefield Road I am talking about. It has a mail route, school bus route, milk truck which picks up at my dairy barn and trucks that service two large chicken farms.

Also, the Spring Hill road which goes into Hope is in such bad shape there should be a sign at each end reading "Condemed". Yours truly,

VERNON BROWN
Nov. 21, 1972
Route One
Hope, Ark.

I don't suppose there is a state or county highway program anywhere that doesn't show up with one or two bad roads. Mr. Brown appears to have a bad road to his home place.

A newspaper can't deal with individual roads. We aren't an official public agency. Our mission in the political arena is to discuss general road programs in the hope of finding one that will steadily improve all roads, state and county.

What Mr. Brown writes isn't going to change this newspaper's view that Arkansas is better off with a debt-free State Highway Department than one maddled with a $400 million-plus bonded debt to run from here to eternity. And, politics being what it is, if Mr. Brown can't get his road improved under our existing highway financing I'll be the first to tell him he wouldn't have any better luck under a state-wide bond program.

The bond program is viewed eagerly by the cities, hoping to relieve the general traffic problem by setting up a system of divided highways outside the Interstate System. Notable is the crowded condition of Highway 65 from Little Rock to Pine Bluff. I've been over that route and it does deserve a dual highway. Hot Springs, courting Texas visitors, wants a better road from Arkadelphia. Our Interstate roads, Nos. 30 and 65, run east and west—Arkansas has no dual highway crossing it from north to south; and some of the cities are clamoring for such a freeway, probably with justice.

In a pinch this newspaper would support a 2-cent increase in the gasoline tax, which would accomplish the same purpose as a bond issue—more slowly, of course, but with less chance of capital funds being wasted and eliminating expensive interest charges.

To be perfectly frank, Arkansas has a pretty good state highway system and pretty good paved roads in its counties. If the state's roads aren't as wide as they should be I presume it is because so much of the gasoline tax has been diverted along with federal aid

Kissinger, Tho meeting continuing

PARIS (AP) — Henry Kissinger resumed negotiations with Le Duc Tho today amid reports that the United States may be preparing to sign a cease-fire agreement without the Saigon government's concurrence.

They met at a villa near the North Vietnamese headquarters in suburban Choley le Roi.

Land deal linked to Roy L. Ash

ELKO, Nev. (AP) — President Nixon's new budget director recently sold his half of a huge Nevada cattle ranch, part of which had been obtained in a land trade with the federal government.

Roy L. Ash said in a telephone interview that the sale of his interest in the 200,000-acre T Lazy S ranch was unrelated to his appointment as director of the White House Office of Management and Budget.

He said he had been looking for a buyer for about two years.

Records in the Elko County courthouse disclosed that Ash and his ranching interest to his Litten Industries partner and the co-owner of the T Lazy S, Charles B. Thornton.

The courthouse records show only that Thornton paid $10 "and other good and valuable consideration."

Asked the actual selling price, Ash said it was a personal matter that he could not disclose without Thornton's permission.

Three years ago Ash and Thornton, who built Litten Industries into one of the nation's biggest defense contractors, picked up a 14,000-acre parcel of public land for about $10 an acre.

The deal was one of several trades involved in creation of Pt. Reyes National Seashore across the Golden Gate from San Francisco.

Ash and Thornton swapped 22 acres of oceanfront land in Pt. Reyes for the 14,145 acres of arid rangeland adjacent to their Nevada ranch.

They had paid $142,000 for the California land.

Ash and officials of the U.S. Bureau of Land Management said that despite the huge disparity in acreage the two parcels of land had the same monetary value.

Federal officials who regularly deal in land in northern Nevada said in interviews that they doubt there is any $10-an-acre land left in the state.

Jerry Henderson, realty specialist for the BLM's Elko district, said the average price now being paid for ranchland in the area is $25 to $30 an acre.

Ash and Thornton were among several persons interested in obtaining public lands who stepped in when the Interior Department found itself short of cash to purchase privately owned property within the 55,000-acre Pt. Reyes seashore.

to the construction of farm-to-market roads in the counties.

Of this most citizens approve. Therefore they might be willing to stand a 2-cent increase in the gasoline tax, which would help the state and the counties, too.

That's your answer, Mr. Brown. But not a bond issue—an irrevocable plunge into debt with a huge interest charge and the almost certain fact that the local road of which you complain would be forgotten.

As his car pulled up to the villa, Kissinger said with a grin for the reporters and photographers gathered there: "I thought this was supposed to be a secret rendezvous."

The house had been used for some of the previous meetings.

President Nixon's top foreign affairs adviser arrived Sunday night from Washington. He gave no indication of what he would propose to Tho, the Hanoi Politburo member Kissinger has been meeting with secretly during the past year.

They held their last meeting Nov. 25 and recessed their talks until today.

In the interim, a special emissary from President Nguyen Van Thieu of South Vietnam, Nguyen Phu Duc, visited Washington for meetings with President Nixon and Kissinger. Reports circulated in the U.S. capital that they told Duc North Vietnam would make no more concessions, and the U.S. government would delay no longer in signing the cease-fire agreement Kissinger and Tho worked out in October.

Saigon has been insisting that any agreement include a guarantee that North Vietnam withdraw all its troops from the South. But North Vietnamese officials insist the document be signed in its original form.

Dispatches from Saigon have indicated the South Vietnamese government may now be re-signing to seeing a cease-fire agreement signed.

Demo governors try power play

ST. LOUIS (AP) — The Democratic governors have made their first move toward reclaiming their former prominence in party affairs by asking party chairman Jean Westwood to resign and endorsing Texas Robert Strauss as her successor.

But Mrs. Westwood said she wouldn't step down voluntarily if Strauss were the alternative, and Strauss said he wouldn't withdraw in favor of a compromise.

After these developments

Sunday, Sen. George McGovern — the party's presidential nominee this year and, therefore, its titular head — said he supports Mrs. Westwood's suggestion that both she and Strauss drop out of the running.

The outcome is likely to be a fight next Saturday when the Democratic National Committee will be asked to resolve the impasse. Both Mrs. Westwood and Strauss claimed they will have the votes to win.

Mrs. Westwood conceded that she has become a symbol of conflict among Democrats but said Strauss had too. She called for a chairman "unscarred by differences of the past."

Mrs. Westwood was McGovern's personal choice for the job and has been under pressure to resign since his landslide loss to President Nixon in last month's presidential election.

McGovern chided Strauss's candidacy as "being advanced by some of the very elements who helped defeat the national ticket in November."

Strauss, a former national-party treasurer, is running with the backing of the same general coalition of conservatives, Southerners and labor leaders which opposed McGovern's drive for the nomination.

Before the action by the Democratic Governors Caucus, Mrs. Westwood told the group she would resign in the interest of party unity if a middle-ground candidate could be agreed upon.

Temperature, rainfall figures

PRECIPITATION 1972 (in inches)

During the first 10 months of 1972, Hempstead County received 35.83 inches or rain — almost seven inches less than normal, according to the official records at the Southwest Branch Experiment Station here.

The county, however, received 6.08 inches from Nov. 1 to Nov. 11 — 1.51 inches above normal for the entire month.

Heavy rainfall during the latter part of October did not bring the total to normal due to the extremely dry weather during three months — February, April and May.

Temperature records kept at the station indicate a .7 degrees below normal average even though July, August and September had 22, 28 and 28 days respectively when temperature was 90 degrees or above.

Records indicate that below normal night temperatures were responsible for the total temperature average drop.

Heavy bombing attacks in VN

By DENNIS NEEDL
Associated Press Writer
SAIGON (AP) — American warplanes made heavy bombing attacks against enemy communication lines in an attempt to curb the resupply of North Vietnamese troops fighting a government counter offensive just below the demilitarized zone, U.S. Command sources reported today.

U.S. pilots flew 315 tactical air strikes against Communist targets in South Vietnam, more than half of them in north-central Quang Tri Province, the U.S. Command announced.

Air Force and Navy fighter-bombers also were reported to have flown more than 80 missions Sunday against Communist supply routes in North Vietnam, destroying 15 trucks as they moved south toward the battlefield.

In a delayed report, the Air Force announced an F4 Phantom jet "apparently crashed due to unknown causes" while on a flight from its base in Thailand to Da Nang Air Base

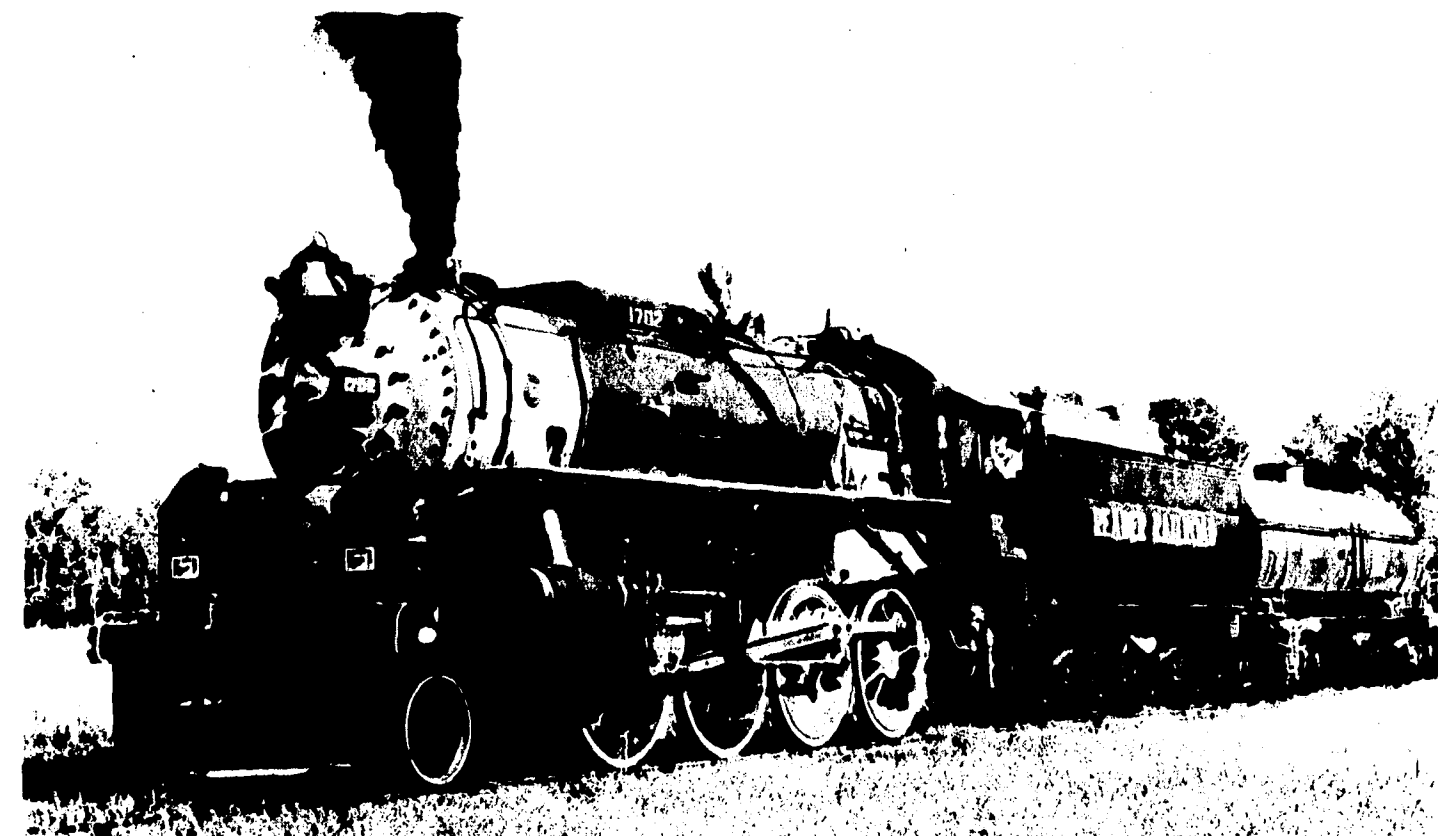

Nov. 28. The two crewmen were listed as missing.

South Vietnamese marines and paratroopers have been inching north to retake territory lost in the early days of the Communist invasion in April. But monsoon weather has brought the drive in Quang Tri Province almost to a standstill.

More than 30 B52s dropped up to 1,000 tons of bombs on Communist troop concentrations and staging areas in Quang Tri during the 24 hours ending at noon, the U.S. Command reported.

Sharp fighting was reported for the second straight day around Kontum City in the Central Highlands, where government infantrymen clashed repeatedly with enemy units moving on the Ngo Trang base camp.

Government forces, backed by artillery and air strikes, were reported to have killed 82 enemy troops in battles in the vicinity of the camp six miles northwest of Kontum. Government casualties were put at

Efforts to raise money to save the railroad will continue, Turner reported.

155 die in crash

SANTA CRUZ DE TENERIFE, Canary Islands (AP) — A holiday for European tourists ended in disaster Sunday when their homeward-bound jetliner crashed moments after takeoff, killing all 155 persons aboard. Most of the dead were Germans.

Witnesses said the Convair 440A, owned by the Spanish charter airline Spantax, got only 300 feet off the runway before one of its four engines burst into flames and the plane crashed on this Atlantic island off North Africa.

Spantax officials said there was no reason to suspect sabotage, but the airline said it was investigating the possibility.

The dead included 143 West Germans on a trip organized by a bus owners' association in Bavaria, three Austrians, two Italians and seven Spanish crew members.

It was Spanish aviation's worst disaster, the fourth worst crash in aviation history and the seventh this year in which more than 100 persons died. The worst crash in aviation history occurred in October outside Moscow when 178 persons were killed in the crash of a Soviet jetliner.

The only victim of the crash found alive was a young woman who kept repeating: "Save me, save me." Police said she died within minutes of reaching a hospital.

Officials said the victims were badly burned and mutilated.

Engineers still working on plan

WASHINGTON (AP) — A spokesman for the office of Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., has reported that the Army Corps of Engineers is still at work trying to find a legal basis for spending appropriations to plan a bridge over Lake Norfolk and to buy wildlife mitigation land in the Cache River Basin.

The last session of Congress appropriated $100,000 for the bridge planning and $1 million for mitigation land purchases, but President Nixon vetoed the bill that authorized the Army Engineers to spend the funds.

The spokesman for McClellan said the corps was attempting to get around the vetoed authorization bill by finding congressional authorization from a DUBLIN (AP) — Dozens of Irish Republican Army men are believed to have fled to Northern Ireland to escape the Irish Republic's tough new anti-guerrilla law, security chiefs say.

IRA leaders were reported to have gone underground over the weekend as President Eamon de Valera signed the new legislation designed to keep the terrorists from finding sanctuary in the republic.

Many guerrillas were thought to have decided to take their chances in the Roman Catholic districts of Belfast and Londonderry.

The new legislation makes testimony of a senior police officer that he believes a suspect to be a member of an illegal organization sufficient for conviction.

Meanwhile, Northern Ireland had another weekend of terrorist violence. Three civilians were killed, a British soldier was badly injured when a rocket hit an armored car, and a bomb in Belfast injured 22 persons.

The confirmed death toll rose to 650 in more than three years of communal violence.

A 32-year-old Catholic whose body was found near his Belfast home had been tortured and "IRA 4" had been branded on his back. His hands and feet had been burned.

The body of an unidentified man was found nearby.

Take the Pledge

25,500 in VN

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. troops strength in Vietnam dropped to 25,500 men last week, well below the ceiling of 27,000 men President Nixon set for Dec. 1, the U.S. Command announced today.

This represented a drop of 2,500 men in the week of Nov. 24-30, the largest weekly decrease since 3,300 men left in the week of Aug. 11-17.

The Defense Department said last week that troop withdrawals would continue on a limited basis but without any advance announcement. Pentagon officials said this would give the United States more flexibility in the cease-fire negotiations in Paris.

In addition to the 25,500 men still in the country, about 100,000 Americans are fighting the war from air bases in Thailand and Guam and from U.S. Navy ships off the coast of Vietnam.

The draft of the cease-fire agreement which Henry Kissinger and Le Duc Tho worked out in Paris last month calls for withdrawal of all American troops from South Vietnam, but nothing is said about withdrawal of the U.S. fleet from offshore or of U.S. airmen from Thailand. However, they would be bound by the cease-fire in Vietnam.

Allende, a Marxist who was elected in 1970, was the only speaker at a morning meeting of the 132-nation assembly. He said his theme would be "economic aggression."

Allende's main targets in his struggle with foreign interests have been the Kennecott, Cerro and Anaconda copper companies and the International Telephone and Telegraph Co.

His biggest fight is with Kennecott, whose El Teniente mine was nationalized last year. In a bid for compensation, the company has suits pending in Europe to prevent buyers in Western Europe from taking delivery on copper exported by the Chilean state corporation that operates the mine.

In retaliation for this, the Organization of Copper Exporting Countries — which includes Chile, Peru, Zaire and Zambia — agreed Friday night to suspend business with Kennecott until the company stopped what were called acts of aggression against Chile.

Chile also has complained that ITT tried to get the U.S. government to take economic

FHA installs new officers

The Hope Chapter of the Future Homemakers of America held their formal installation of officers and induction of new members in the high school auditorium Nov. 30 at 7:30 p.m.

In an impressive ceremony, Kathy Walden, president for 1972-73, installed the following officers: first vice-president - Diana Brown; second vice-president - Sharon Williamson; secretary - Bonnie Willis; treasurer - Marilyn Smith; reporter - Eunice Sumner; historian - Janice Jones; parliamentarian - Nancy Palmer; song leader - Hazel Brewer.

Miss Walden also introduced the FHA Executive Council. Elected from each Home Ec. class these girls help the officers carry out the business of the club. They are Debbie Crank, Charlene Gilbert, Judy Powers, Karen Bradley, Debra Monk, Kim Huff, Elisabeth Steward, Annie Edwards, Cindy Sison, Vickie Fellows, Brenda Wilson, Lou Ann Hartline, Dorothy Cooper, and Cozy Burke.

Debbie Crank welcomed the parents and friends in the auditorium and Linda Stuart gave the invocation.

Open house was held in the Home Ec. Cottage after the program. Colorful fall flowers and dried arrangements decorated the Cottage and crafts made by Homemaking I girls were displayed.

Homemaking II girls prepared the refreshments and the senior girls decorated.

Advisors for the Hope Chapter are Mrs. Helen Clark, Mrs. Estelle Spearman, and Mrs. Carole Lester.

Little Mother Wants Respect

DEAR HELEN:

Please say something about doctors who are insensitive to the feelings of pregnant women. I had my first baby ten years ago and my doctor was a perfect gentleman. Our second will be here shortly and this new doctor follows the modern "crudity" trend. I happen to think motherhood is a sacred trust and I don't appreciate him (and from what I hear, many other young doctors) joking about conception and referring to the miracle of birth as "coming down the chute," etc. My friends say this just puts them at ease, but I'm —

REVOLVED

P.S. Aren't you, Helen? DEAR REVOLVED:

Sorry - no!

Our V. PG. (very pregnant) daughter-in-law's obstetrician earned a gold star from the whole family when he warned, "Now Judy, don't get too far away from the hospital—you're like a dump truck with the tailgate down!"

Since when is the miracle of birth tarnished by a little fun?

—H.

DEAR HELEN:

I'm a naturally affectionate person. I like to hug people I love, come up behind my husband and give him a kiss on the ear, sit in his lap, lean against him with my head on his shoulder. What I want is cuddling, but he interprets it as the big passion scene and follows through with great vigor. Which is okay sometimes—but not ALWAYS.

So I've almost stopped those little signs of affection, except when I'm really amorous, and I feel cheated. It's as if he considers me just a set of erogenous zones and a hug or kiss are wasted if he doesn't contact the right circuit.

I try to explain how I feel, but he still can't understand why I pull away after I (as he says) "start things."

How do you get it across to a man that his woman wants closeness and warmth, a kiss on the neck, a pat on the fanny perhaps, as a kind of promissory note to be collected with high interest—we'll almost any time, but not always "on demand right now" just because he interprets her every touch as "getting sexy"? Is it only on television that a husband can talk to his wife while she snuggles up to him on the couch, without his developing schoolboy roving hands, or that bedroom smirk on his face?

Please tell these fellows that demonstrated love isn't always a signal for instant sex. —FOR MAKING PASSIONATE LOVE TOO, BUT LATER

DEAR FMPLTL:

You've told 'em—beautifully. And thanks: according to my mail a lot of husbands needed that! (Especially those in the over-35 bracket who grew up thinking tenderness was somehow unmanly and "necking" was for kids.) —H.

YOUR BIRTHDAY TODAY

Attractive new horizons are beckoning. Your desire for travel will be accentuated. Avoid fraternizing with pessimists. They tend to limit your vision.

ARIES (Mar 21-Apr 19): Without meaning to, your behavior could be a little too brusque to suit others. Avoid blunt retorts.

TAURUS (Apr 20-May 20): It's best you let others handle their finances. Your suggestions aren't as helpful as your optimism.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): People will hold you to your word. Promises made today will be interpreted as agreements. Don't exaggerate.

CANCER (June 21-July 22): An unforeseen development has a dampening effect upon work or career. Things may slow up temporarily.

LEO (July 23-Aug 22): By-pass risky or speculative ventures today. Wait till you get a clearer picture.

VIRGO (Aug 23-Sept 22): Trying to conclude matters too hastily will lessen benefits. You'll come out better if you wait.

LIBRA (Sept 23-Oct 23): You'll make many extra steps for yourself today if you don't think carefully before you act.

SCORPIO (Oct 24-Nov 22): Recklessness with finances could put you behind the 8-ball. Avoid this by eliminating extravagance.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov 23-Dec 21): The demands of others are too unreasonable. Have a frank discussion. Let them share the burden.

CAPRICORN (Dec 22-Jan 19): If you're too introspective today you'll emphasize the negative. Things are less difficult than you imagine.

AQUARIUS (Jan 20-Feb 19): Keep moving, but don't move too fast or you won't get the boss' approval. His views are more conservative.

PISCES (Feb 20-Mar 20): Someone may try to put down your accomplishments. Don't be upset—it's just sour grapes.

Southern Cal undefeated!

By HERSCHEL NISSENBAUM, Associated Press Sports Writer

And then there was one. One undefeated team—Southern California—and one game to go for the national college football championship.

The Trojans, No. 1 all year in The ASSOCIATED PRESS ratings, completed a brilliant 11-0 regular season Saturday by trouncing 10th-ranked Notre Dame 45-23 as super sophomore Anthony Davis dazzled the Fighting Irish with six touchdowns, one short of the all-time major college record.

That left USC with no legitimate pretenders to the throne since ninth-ranked Auburn upset runner-up Alabama, the only other unbeaten team, 17-16 earlier the day. The Tigers scored all their points in the final period, wiping out a 16-0 Alabama lead on Gardner Jett's 42-yard field goal and two blocked punts by Bill Newton, both of which David Langner scooped up and ran in for touchdowns.

Ohio State's Big Ten champs are the only team between Southern Cal and the Trojans' third national crown since Coach John McKay took over in 1960. The Buckeyes, ranked fourth last week, meet Southern Cal in the Rose Bowl and appear to be one of only three challengers for the top spot.

The others are third-ranked Oklahoma and No. 5 Penn State, who clash in the Sugar Bowl. All three challengers probably will move up in this week's final regular-season poll.

Elsewhere, Oklahoma upset Nebraska as Big Eight titlists with a 38-15 trouncing of 20th-ranked Oklahoma State and the Astro-Bluebonnet Bowl foes both triumphed, No. 11 Louisiana State edging Tulane 9-6 as time ran out with the losers on the LSU one-yard line and No. 12 Tennessee whipping

Vanderbilt 30-10 as Haskel Stanback scored three touchdowns and set a single-season school rushing record of 889 yards.

The Liberty Bowl rivals, however, both lost. Slumping Iowa State, which had high hopes midway through the campaign, bowed to San Diego State 27-14 while Georgia Tech, without suspended quarterback Eddie McAshan, was jumped by Georgia 37-7.

In other games on the final big weekend of the season, Army rallied to sink Navy 23-15, Southern Methodist gave ousted Coach Hayden Fry a 35-22 farewell present over Texas Christian, Florida downed Miami, Fla. 17-6, Baylor trimmed Rice 28-14 for its best season since 1966, Boston College drubbed Jesuit rival Holy Cross 41-11, Stanford crushed Hawaii 39-7, Memphis State and Southern Mississippi battled to a 14-14 standoff

POWDER PUFF ACTION—In Powder Puff football action Saturday night, the girls used hip flags instead of playing the usual tackle football. Anita McCauley, a senior, lost her hip flag to a junior player in her attempt to reach the goal line.

'Skins grab division crown

By BRUCE LOWITT, Associated Press Sports Writer

"We've fulfilled our immediate goal ... but now we've got to go on from there," Washington Coach George Allen said.

The immediate goal was a championship, something the Redskins hadn't achieved in 27 years. They achieved it Sunday, locking up the East Division crown of the National Conference by beating surprisingly scrappy Philadelphia 23-7. It was the same Eagles club which, only a week ago, had rolled over, played dead and been stampeded 62-10.

The Pittsburgh Steelers, who have never won a title of any kind in their 40 years in the National Football League, took a giant step toward the American Conference's Central Division title by thrashing Cleveland 30-0 to take a one-game lead over the Browns with two to go.

The Green Bay Packers, expected by most preseason observers to be mere bystanders in a National Conference Central struggle between Detroit and Minnesota, regained a one-game lead in the division by clubbing the Lions 33-7, dumping them back into a second-place tie with the Vikings.

Oakland also clinched a division title, its fifth in six seasons, edging San Diego 19-17 to take a 2 1/2-game lead in the American Conference West with two games remaining.

In Sunday's other NFL games, unbeaten Miami made it 12 in a row by defeating New England 37-21, Minnesota beat Chicago 23-10, Cincinnati nipped the New York Giants 13-10, Atlanta trimmed Houston 20-10, Dallas shelled St. Louis 27-6, Kansas City nosed out Denver 24-21, Baltimore bombed Buffalo 35-7 and the New York Jets squeezed past New Orleans 18-17. The San Francisco 49ers host the Los Angeles Rams in tonight's game.

Also on Sunday, the Hamilton Tiger-Cats beat the Saskatchewan Roughriders 13-10 for the Grey Cup in the pro football championship of Canada.

The aroused Eagles held NFL rushing leader Larry Brown to just 70 yards, forcing quarterback Billy Kilmer to rely on Charley Harraway for the key ground gains. Harraway finished with 77 yards, one of them on Washington's first-half touchdown. But the 'Skins locked it up in the second half as Curt Knight, who had a first-half field goal, booted two more and Kilmer tossed two yards to Chary Taylor.

Three Rivers Stadium in Pittsburgh was in a constant uproar as the oft-frustrated Steelers avenged a 28-24 loss to the Browns they suffered two weeks ago.

The Steelers' star once again was rookie Franco Harris, who rushed for 102 yards and a pair of touchdowns. It tied Jim Brown's record of six straight 100-yard-plus games and put him within 40 yards of becoming the fifth pro rookie to reach 1,000.

After Chester Marcol got the Packers moving with three of his four field goals, Ken Ellis shifted them into high gear with two interceptions which set up a pair of John Brockington touchdown runs and sent Detroit reeling.

Charlie Smith's nine-yard touchdown sweep with about a minute to play provided Oakland's margin of victory over the Chargers. Daryle Lamonica passed 16 yards to Ray Chester and 36 to Fred Biletnikoff for the Raiders' other touchdowns.

Colonels: Looking like champs

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The third-place Kentucky Colonels of 1972 are beginning to look like the champion Kentucky Colonels of 1971.

The Colonels, who won the American Basketball Association's East Division with a record number of victories last year before getting eliminated in the playoffs, won their seventh game in the last eight by whipping San Diego 100-91

San Diego.

In other Sunday action in the ABA, Indiana edged the New York Nets 113-110 and Memphis trounced Virginia 124-115, while Milwaukee downed Phoenix 119-110 and Cleveland edged Seattle 105-103 in overtime in the only National Basketball Association games.

Bill Keller clinched Indiana's victory with four foul shots in the last six seconds after the Nets have closed from 13 points behind to one, 109-108, with eight seconds remaining. George McGinnis paced Indiana with 26 points and Keller added 19. George Carter topped New York with 29.

With George Thompson leading the way with 28 points, Memphis snapped an eight-game losing streak despite 37 points by Virginia's Julius Erving.

Nicklaus wins golf tourney

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Golf Writer
LAKE BUENA VISTA, Fla. (AP) — Jack Nicklaus had just closed the most spectacular year of his fantastic career with a victory in the Walt Disney World Open Golf Tournament and was considering his goals for 1973.

"The first goal," he mused, "well, that'd be No. 14 at Augusta, in the Masters."

He referred to his collection of 13 major championships, a record he shares with the late Bobby Jones. A victory at Augusta, Ga., in the spring would be the 14th, putting him on a plateau alone above all the other men who have played this old game.

His more general goals are even more awe-inspiring.

"I don't think there's any question this is the best year I've had," said Nicklaus, winner of the U.S. Open, the Masters, five other titles and a whopping record of $320,542.

The seventh title and $30,000 came Sunday when he forged a front-running eight-under-par 64 for a 287 total and a nine-stroke victory. The 72-hole total and the victory margin both were tour records for the season.

"The year was better than last year," he said, paused a moment and added:

"But I'd certainly hope next year is better."

Nicklaus' season was one of the finest the game has seen. He won seven of his 20 starts and was second in four others, once in the British Open. He won Golfer-of-the-Year honors. His stroke average of 70.23 was by far the best on the tour. He won a record-matching fourth Masters and a record-matching 13th major career title.

And he wants to improve. "Right now," said Sam Snead, a 60-year-old living legend, "he's got the best attitude and the best talent in the game. He's picked up all the options."

Snead provided what little excitement there was on the final round as Nicklaus made a rout of it. Snead ambled over the 7,222-yard Magnolia course with a 65 that put him among the leaders at 278, a distant 11 strokes back of Nicklaus' 21-under-par total.

DR. LAWRENCE E. LAMB

Reader shuns sex

Is fast heart the reason?

By Lawrence Lamb, M.D.

Dear Dr. Lamb—My problem is a fast heart. I went to the doctor but he said it isn't bad and really not fast enough to cause me to have a heart attack and that I should relax. He told me to stop smoking and quit drinking coffee and he gave me some B-12 and that was it. Well, I quit smoking for months and I didn't drink coffee. I drink tea. My heart went back to the way it should be, but I soon went back to smoking and drinking coffee and in the morning when I get up my heart beats so fast I get scared it will cause a heart attack. I am only 40 years old.

I am tired all the time. I have no interest in sex and my husband says I should see a doctor as I am not normal. At my age a person needs sex and all of them want it. I have been married to this man for four and one-half years and he is older than I and he has toughed it out without sex, but he says it is getting a little old now. Could this be from my heart beating so fast, or is it that I am just one of those people who don't need sex? I have been married five times, first at 15 years of age.

Dear Reader—My initial reaction is that anyone who has been married five times must have a basic reasonable interest in sex.

My second reaction is that if you would carefully follow your doctor's advice you might feel a lot better. You have already proved this once by following his advice for a period of time and noted during this interval that your heart functioned better.

It is perfectly true that both coffee and cigarettes tend to markedly increase the heart rate. Some people are more sensitive to these than others and may even have serious irregularities of the heart because of this habit. Your doctor gave you very sound advice and the real problem is that you didn't stick to it. I think you should gradually ease off the coffee and quit it entirely. Don't form a tea or cola habit either. Both also contain caffeine, the drug in coffee that causes the fast heart rate you complain about. Stop your cigarettes and start a reasonable and sensible exercise program. These things help increase a person's general sense of well-being and tend to decrease the sense of fatigue that you have.

There are many causes for fatigue, but if the doctor examines you and finds no serious medical problem, it is often related to one's living habits and, of course, one's interests in life. It is hard to have interests though, if you feel tired all of the time. So, why don't you go back to following your doctor's advice and start a regular exercise program, and it may improve your energy level. Once your energy level is improved, maybe the other aspects of your life will take care of themselves normally.

Incidentally, there are studies which strongly suggest that heavy smoking decreases sexual desire in both men and women. I should think this would be an adequate incentive to a large number of people to give up this useless and dangerous habit.

By Oswald & James Jacoby

Oswald: "We haven't talked about our code word 'ARCH' for some time. Analyze the lead—Review the bidding—Count your winners and losers—How can I make the contract?"

Jim: "The Count of winners and losers with today's hand shows South that he must lose one diamond and one club. He may also lose a trick to the king of trumps and will have to lose a second club trick if East holds the ace of that suit."

Oswald: "A Review of the bidding tells him that East has less than seven high card points. He passed his partner's opening bid. The odds are also that any specific high card will be held by West."

Jim: "South also sees that he is in a pretty good contract and wants to give himself the best chance to make it. He knows that East can't hold an ace and a king. That would give him seven high card points."

Oswald: "After all that thought, South sees that he can afford to bang down his ace of hearts. It will cost him a trick if East holds the king but it won't be the contract. West just may hold a singleton king."

Jim: "Sure enough, West does hold it. South doesn't have to lose a trump trick and makes his game."

THE QUEEN'S HORSES

The Gold State Coach, built in 1762, kept at Royal Mews. Used for all coronations, refurbished for that of Elizabeth II in 1953.

Royal relic: a Mews exhibit, a 1901 Daimler built for Edward VII in early days of motoring.

Irish State Coach, left, and French Charabanc stand in the Royal Mews. Carriage horses are Windsor Greys and Cleveland Bays.

The Royal Mews at Buckingham Palace is the home of the Queen's carriages, horses—and horsepower. It's a dignified quadrangle of stables, first used for the royal horses in 1762 when George III decided to buy Buckingham House, as it then was, and make it his palace.

That was the year George's new, gold State Coach was delivered—the fairy-tale coach which has been used for every coronation since, from that of George IV to that of Elizabeth II in 1953. Then, it was drawn by a team of Windsor Greys, the Mews's famous carriage horses which can be seen trotting ahead of coach, landau or harouche on many a grand occasion. The Royal Coachmen and grooms, of course, turn out in a range of elegant liveries for varied State and "everyday" functions.

Visitors to the Mews can inspect an unequalled collection of harness and trappings, as well as all the horses and vehicles which aren't out in use—there are even half-a-dozen royal sleighs. The motorized fleet includes limousines, buses and four-wheel drive vehicles. Not as colorful as the glass coaches, perhaps. But handier in the traffic for the Royal Household these days.

Military court to hear arguments in Lt. Calley's case

FALLS CHURCH, Va. (AP) — A three-judge military court hears oral arguments today by lawyers for Lt. William L. Calley Jr., seeking to reverse his conviction or reduce the sentence for the murder of at least 22 civilians in My Lai, South Vietnam.

Calley, who has served 20 months of a 20-year sentence in house arrest at Ft. Benning, Ga., will not be at the hearing before the Army Court of Military Review.

His lawyers claimed, in a 401-page brief, that 32 errors were committed in the course of Calley's prosecution and trial at Ft. Benning and that he was made the scapegoat "to inflame and clear the government and its policy makers of the responsibility for what has become an infamous incident."

The government countered that procedures were proper and that Calley "for the sake of expediency, determined to liquidate the unprotected people of My Lai 4."

Calley was a platoon leader in a three-company task force that sought to clear a Viet Cong battalion out of the My Lai area in Quang Ngai Province on March 16, 1968.

The Viet Cong were not there and the troops met no resistance, but hundreds of South Vietnamese civilians were killed in the assault. Calley was convicted of executing at least 22—one at a trail intersection, 20 at a ditch and an old man in monk's robes who came to him with hands in supplication. The same six court-martial members sentenced him to life in prison, reduced in review to 20 years.

The government charged 25 men with crimes ranging from murder to covering up the incident. Of the six tried, only Calley was convicted, leading his lawyers to argue in their brief:

"He carries with him not only his guilt, but the guilt of those who were not even tried as well."

Woman searching for unsafe toys

SEATTLE (AP) — Andrea Mangold has filled her shopping cart during the past two months in 13 stores where she's paid for hardly a thing.

Instead, two of the stores may have to pay fines for selling unsafe toys discovered on the shelves by Mrs. Mangold. A mother of three, she is an unpaid consumer deputy under a pilot program for the U.S. Food and Drug Administration.

Under the experiment, consumer volunteers in San Francisco, Chicago, Atlanta, Philadelphia and Seattle inspect stores to see if they're carrying any of some 800 toys banned as unsafe.

The Seattle office of the FDA said that, since the project was started Aug. 15, consumer deputies have checked 6,000 children's toys in 78 stores. One or more types of banned articles were found in 60 per cent of the stores, the FDA reported.

In a suburban discount house Sunday, Mrs. Mangold took less than an hour to fill her cart with toys she said could cause an infant to choke to death, seriously injure a baby's mouth

Letters from Santa available

This Christmas could be a happier one for a lot of children in this area if they received a personal letter from Santa Claus himself. It will be mailed from an officially postmarked Santa Claus, Indiana.

The First National Bank of Hope makes it possible for every child in the community to receive the Christmas-time message. All that is necessary is to stop in at "FNB in Hope" for these free letters any day until Dec. 15th, and choose one of the four colorful letters on display. Address and stamp the envelope for the child - just as you would a greeting card - and drop it in the special Santa Claus mail box. The letter will be returned through the mails with the famous Santa Claus, Indiana postmark.

Pollutants could be valuable

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Many pollutants being discarded by industry actually are valuable raw materials, an international pollution conference here was told today.

Herman Vaughan of Dow Chemicals said his company tries to view pollution "as a waste of valuable raw materials."

He said the wastes that other companies flush into lakes and rivers can give a company that uses them an economic advantage.

More than 25 employees of Bruner Ivory Handle Company were honored at a special awards program last week. Perry Link, president of the company, expressed his appreciation to the group for their loyalty and service. An aggregate total of 700 years is represented by the group. Employees with a minimum of 25 years service were presented a gold watch. Those receiving a watch were: Roy Brittain, C. L. Bennett, Rinaldo Sooter, Howard Garner, Johnnie McCorkle, Willie Seaton, and M. L. Evans.

Worth Andres, Orville Mitchell, Vera Corneilus,

Virginia Haltom, Mattie Mae Pettit, Henry Lambert, Orlee Bragg, and Garland Neal.

Ervin Sinyard, Guy E. Basye, Executive Vice Pres., Glen Cannon, A. R. Hamm, Paul Somers, Charley Lockard, Willie Brandon, and Bennie McGhee.

TAKES IN COAST GAMES OAKLAND, Calif. (AP) — "I knew you'd make it," Yogi Berra, manager of the New York Mets, told his former teammate Charlie Silvera before the start of the third World Series game in Oakland.

Silvera now coaches for the Detroit Tigers but he caught behind Yogi in the 1969 World Series. Their pitching teammate of that year, southpaw Ed Lopat, was also here as a special scout for the Montreal Expos. Silvera presented Yogi with one of Berra's columns which appeared in a San Francisco paper. That's where Silvera makes his off-season residence.

Free of strike threat, Apollo 17 is ready to take off

LUNAR DRILL, key tool for Apollo 17 extravehicular activity, is operated by mission commander Eugene A. Cernan.

By HARRY F. ROSENTHAL
Associated Press Writer

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — Free of a strike threat, preparations for the last Apollo flight to the moon went on a clockwork schedule today for Wednesday's night launching.

"I'm very happy to report that there will be no strike," said Bernard Mamet, attorney for 60 aerospace workers whose proposed walkout in the final days threatened to wash out the liftoff.

Astronauts Eugene A. Cernan, Ronald E. Evans and Harrison N. Schmitt, sleeping later each day to adjust for an afternoon wake-up for the 9:53 p.m. EST launch, were to run through procedures for an emergency abort on the launch pad today.

Later in the day, Cernan and Schmitt were to rehearse in a mock lunar lander, while Evans worked in a command-module simulator and on orbital geology.

Cernan and Schmitt will land the craft named Challenger on the moon next Monday. Evans will remain aboard the command craft, America, conducting experiments from 60 miles overhead during the three days his comrades are on the moon.

"Boeing apparently opted out that discretion was the better part of valor, and they took our final proposal," said Mamet, attorney for the International Alliance of Theatrical and Stage Employees (IATSE), which represented the 60 non-union workers.

The strike threat came from documentation workers who do such tasks as illustration, photography and technical writing under a Boeing Co. support-services contract. Their work is not essential to launch activities, but there was the danger of more critical personnel honoring their picket lines.

But, in Houston, Tex., 80 employees of a contractor at the Manned Spacecraft Center voted to strike Sunday night and form picket lines which could idle another 400 space workers.

However, space agency officials said the strike would have "no impact" on the Apollo 17 flight.

The contract talks at Cape Kennedy did not hold up flight preparations. They occurred mostly during a scheduled 30-hour hold in the computerized checkout of thousands of systems on the 36-story Saturn 5 rocket, the command ship that tops it and the lunar lander that nestles inside.

At midnight, as the count resumed, crews began loading super-cold fuels into the service module of the command ship.

The astronauts spent Sunday reviewing flight data and making final corrections on the time charts and check lists. Then they flew for a while in T-38 jet trainers — both for relaxation and for maneuvers signed to condition their bodies to high acceleration.

And, with millions of other American men, they were front of the television watching Sunday football.

Sweetest of the suite has everything, but...

By VERNON A. GUIDRY Jr.
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Holiday Inn, with rooms for the masses, offers something a little different for travelers near here: a $1,400-per-night suite with everything from servants' quarters to scotch and martinis on tap.

The three-bedroom, four-bath suite has everything, in fact, but paying guests.

The operators of the inn in suburban Gaithersburg, Md., aren't unduly distressed that no oil sheik has yet trod the $3,700 oriental rug, or that no international financier has ever propped his impeccably shod feet on the $5,300 deck.

This sweetest of suites has been a publicity gold mine from its circular bed to its olympic-sized Roman bath.

"It's definitely helped our business," says innkeeper William Dunmore, noting particularly the luncheon trade. Sight-seers sometimes number 40 a day, he says.

They are told that limousine and 24-hour maid service are included in the price, and all food and drink, of course.

There's also the cedar-lined sauna, the board room complete with decanter of brandy and the Chippendale furniture.

Freeways harbor air pollution

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP) — Freeways harbor enough air pollution during rush hours to seriously endanger the health of heart-disease victims, a study shows.

Carbon monoxide inhaled during a freeway ride of 90 minutes increases the likelihood of heart pain among coronary patients and causes serious cardiac changes, apparently from a reduction in oxygen, concluded the study by the Long Beach Veterans Administration Hospital.

People in the News

WASHINGTON (AP) — Washington Redskins quarterback Billy Kilmer says President Nixon is "really hurting us" by being a vocal fan of his hometown team.

In a Washington Post article Sunday, Kilmer was quoted as saying the President is "something else. He calls all the time. He even calls the coach on election night to talk about the game."

Kilmer said comments favoring the Redskins prior to a game hurt the team.

"He told some guy from Cleveland he met in New York that Cleveland had a good team but they had quarterback problems. Then Cleveland gets all psyched up, and they're much harder to beat. I think I'm going to ask (coach) George Allen to tell the President not to talk about a game until after we've played it," he said.

WARSAW (AP) — Sen. Hubert Humphrey has been thanked for his work in creating the American Children's Hospital in Krakow.

"You are especially welcome here because your feelings have been well demonstrated in this hospital you did so much to build," Krakow Mayor Jerzy Pekala told the Minnesota Democrat Sunday.

Humphrey, a member of the foundation which built the hospital, is on a tour of Poland. He is scheduled to meet with high government officials today.

NEW LONDON, Conn. (AP) — Acting FBI Director L. Patrick Gray III has been described as in good condition following his release from Lawrence and Memorial Hospital.

State policeman is Rotary Club guest

The Hope Rotary Club realized how policemen "earn their keep" when they heard Sgt. Ray Davis of the Arkansas State Police relate experiences of the past 11 years with the department. He was speaking at the club's luncheon meeting in the Town and Country on Friday, December 1.

So far this year there have been 92 fatalities in this district, and the No. 1 cause of accidents is alcohol. "Attention" and "Vision" are the most important factors a driver must have, and everyone can help cut down accidents by obeying the law. "Every traffic law has a safety objective," Sgt. Davis said and added, "the only reason for a law is for your protection."

C. R. Moore presided over the meeting and paid special tribute to Rotarian James H. Jones whose retirement from the Hope School System had recently been announced. Student guest Mike Brown returned for the second week and introduced a fellow student at Hope High, Mike Huckabee. Visitors also included Gil Snow of Texarkana and Charles Mitchell.
